

Animated Story Proposal

Synopsis:

There was a happy bird flying and singing when suddenly it started to rain. It was so cold and the rain was a lot that the bird froze and felt weak. The bird fell to the ground in a large field. He started to cry because he was alone, wet, and cold. He heard a bell and moo. Then he saw a cow coming from the road. He asked her to help him, but the cow didn't answer him and left. Before leaving she dropped a hot dung on him. Although he was frozen he started to realize that this dung is thawing him. He felt warm and happy so he started to sing again. While he was singing a fox heard the bird voice and came to look up. He saw the bird laying in the pile of dung. The fox ran to the bird and started to dig him out. The bird thought the fox is helping him to get rid of the dry dung, but the fox freed him and ate him.
